

EVERYDAY DENTISTRY SERIES CDE PROGRAMME

Diabetes, hypertension and hyperlipidaemia. Dental considerations and the aging population.

SYNOPSIS

Singapore enjoys one of the highest life expectancies in the world. Coupled with demographic factors, the elderly are rapidly being established as the predominant population group in Singapore. Encountering patients with chronic diseases in the dental clinic is becoming the norm. This talk will cover dental considerations for the three common chronic diseases to be encountered in Singapore: diabetes mellitus, hypertension and hyperlipidaemia.

DR CHANG KOK MENG

Dr Chang Kok Meng is a dental specialist in Periodontology. He received his postgraduate training in the National University of Singapore and also became a Member in Restorative Dentistry of the Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh. Dr Chang was subsequently awarded a government scholarship to receive further training in Oral Medicine at the Eastman Dental Institute in London. He is also a Fellow of the Academy of Medicine, Singapore.

Dr Chang contributes actively to dentistry in Singapore. He is president of the Society of Periodontology (Singapore), honorary treasurer of the College of Dental Surgeons Singapore, member of the Dental Specialists Accreditation Committee and council member of the Singapore Dental Council.
