

EVERYDAY DENTISTRY SERIES CDE PROGRAMME

Practical Dental Management of the Elderly Person

SYNOPSIS

Singapore is facing an aging population. As such, it is inevitable that dentists are increasingly seeing older persons in their dental practice. Is there a difference in treating the older person as compared to a younger person? What are the common pitfalls in treating the older person? Without being overly technical or scientific, this talk hopes to shed some light on management aspects of the elderly person, and possibly debunk some myths along the way.

DR ANG KOK-YANG

Dr Ang Kok-Yang graduated from the Faculty of Dentistry, National University of Singapore in 2006. He spent a short 6 months in various dental clinics of the National Healthcare Group Polyclinics, before being posted to Tan Tock Seng Hospital in July 2007 as part of his MOH dental bond. This was the beginning of his journey treating patients with special needs: geriatric, complicated medical issues, intellectually disabled, and the physically handicapped. He embarked upon his postgraduate training in Special Needs Dentistry at the University of Melbourne in 2012, and returned back to Tan Tock Seng Hospital in 2015 upon completion of his training. He attained his Membership of the Royal Australasian College of Dental Surgeons in Special Needs Dentistry in 2017, as part of his ongoing journey to benchmark himself against international standards in his field.
