Important Announcement from Integrated Health Information Systems Pte Ltd

With a growing ageing population and increase in chronic diseases together with multiple comorbidities, more patients are visiting multiple care providers for varying needs. Contribution of quality data from all healthcare providers to the National Electronic Health Record (NEHR) is an important step towards achieving safer and more effective care for our patients.

To better support you in your journey to contribute data to the NEHR, the Minister for Health, Mr Gan Kim Yong, recently announced on 8 November 2017 that several initiatives will be introduced to provide you with technical, clinical and financial support.
