Professional Indemnity Insurance - A Necessity for Peace of Mind

There is increased awareness amongst dental practitioners about the need for professional indemnity insurance.

Are you bewildered by a greater array of choices available?

Are you daunt by the prospect of choosing a suitable product?

Come to this talk to learn & have clarity as to the differences between the various products and the potential impact those differences may have on each dental practice!

Is there an ideal product? This is for each dental practitioner to decide but that decision should be an informed one.

Learn to read the fine print!

Implants – Terminal Dentition

As our patients are aging, failure of their existing teeth and prostheses are requiring the need for more demanding and complex dental treatment. We are observing in a greater number of our patients they reach a time (terminal dentition) when the eventuality of entire tooth loss is unavoidable.

In this combined lecture from both the prosthodontic and Oral surgical aspects, we hope to share with you our experiences in managing these patients so that you may be able to use these philosophies in your daily practice.
