Twenty Years of Periodontology in Singapore

The Society of Periodontology (Singapore) turns 20 in January 2017! In commemoration of this significant event, the SPS is organizing a symposium titled "Twenty Years of Periodontology in Singapore" on 15 January 2017. Let our speakers update you on periodontal trends and practices that have evolved with scientific findings and sometimes moderated by local sociologic trends, government policies and possibly even economic considerations. We have packed a great programme for the day so do sign up and have a rewarding time. Information on the symposium can be found in the flyer and more details will be made available on the SPS website at www.perio.org.sg. Enquiries can be sent to enquiry@perio.org.sg.
