Incorrect low blood glucose results with Nipro Diagnostics TRUEresult Blood Glucose Test Strips

HSA would like to update healthcare professionals on the voluntary recall of specific lots of TRUEresult Blood Glucose Test Strips due to incorrect low glucose results. Nipro Asia Pte Ltd is initiating this recall as the product owner has become aware that the affected TRUEresult Blood Glucose Test Strips may give inaccurate results to diabetic patients, showing readings that are lower than their actual blood sugar levels. This could lead to patients failing to control and manage their actual blood glucose adequately due to the inaccurate reading. To date, HSA has not received any reports of such adverse events associated with the affected lots of the blood glucose test strips in Singapore. Healthcare professionals are advised to inform patients to discontinue the use of any affected test strips and to consider performing a re-test on patients if glucose monitoring had been performed using the affected test strips. Healthcare professionals are also advised to report any adverse events as a consequence of the inaccurate blood glucose results to HSA or Nipro Asia Pte Ltd.

Ancora Imparo is proud to bring you Dr. Hirofumi Tashiro's revolutionary JT Concept in composite resin restoration. Dr. Tashiro's introduction of the JT Concept blends minimal intervention techniques in composite resin with the intention to re-establish nature's form, within the oral cavity. Along with the latest knowledge in bonding research, Dr. Tashiro demonstrates a new dimension and paradigm shift in the understanding and handling of composite resins. This hands-on course will provide detailed practical guidance and enhance clinical outcomes by focusing on key procedural steps in the management of the versatility of composite resins as a treatment option. The most significant advantages being cost effectiveness, conservation of tooth tissue, reduced treatment time with enhanced aesthetics.

Join Dr. Tashiro and us as we explore the 'next generation' of restorative dentistry and holistic dental care.

Warm regards,
